Progress Report on Airport Made to Mayor Warren

The attorney for CAA was here Thursday to check over the deeds to the new airport, which is being established by the County and City east of Canyon. He approved all of the deeds in the transaction and asked that the sponsors complete preliminary plans as quickly as possible.

According to the attorney, the development of the airport is on a three year basis. The county and city put up $18,000 for the purchase of the land. The federal government will reimburse the sponsors one-fourth of this cost. The money may be used by the sponsors on other phases of the project.

The engineer for the sponsors is required to have in the regional office at Big Spring a detailed map of the land and the runways. Money for these projects is available up to June 30, 1947. The government pays 50% of the runway and engineers costs.

On July 1st other projects may be presented. The new project must be completed by June 30, 1948; and then other projects may be presented for the third year of the construction.

Mayor W. A. Warren was glad to get these details straightened out, and will have the required maps and other details in Big Spring by Saturday.

Dr. Ples Harper Is AAUW Speaker

Dr. Ples Harper, formerly associated with the State Department of the Cultural Relations Program in Lima, Peru, spoke to seventy-five guests and members of the American Association of University Women Tuesday evening, February 18, in room 202 of the Education building. Dr. Harper indicated in his address that the exchange of college and university students was one of the most invaluable means of fostering good will between the two countries. He compared the Cultural Relations Program "to a window which has been opened," revealing arts and crafts of another world. Other numbers on the program were greetings from Peru by a student, Claudio Escalante, and two vocal selections by a high school student, Carrie Guerrero, accompanied at the piano by Ruth Ann Soll.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. Ed Dodd of Dangerfield and Mrs. A. Maddox of Brownwood.

An exhibit of ancient and modern Peruvian Arts and Crafts has been open to the public in the Museum since Friday, February 21, and will continue through Sunday, March 2.

The AAUW will meet with Miss Edna V. Graham and Miss Mae Simmons in the home of Miss Graham Monday, March 3, at 7:00 o'clock. Regular study groups will convene.

The course of study was a program of The American Legion from the local posts up through the National Headquarters. They were privileged to hear an address by S. Perry Brown, chairman of the National Defense Committee of the American Legion, and Harry W. Colmery past National Commander of The American Legion.

W. T. Coaches Given Ovation Sunday p. m.

A reception, which was well attended by Canyon people as well as those from Amarillo, was held last Sunday afternoon in the Crystal Ballroom of the Herring Hotel for West Texas State's new coaches, Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnagin.

Special music was furnished by the West Texas State Collegians and Miss Thelma Mercer as vocalist. Everyone was agreed that the musical entertainment was splendid.

Kimbrough and Jarnagin were quite pleased by the reception they received, and all those present, in turn, were very well pleased with the new coaches. Both made a fine impression on all their listeners, and all high school men present were left with the feeling that graduating athletes could make no mistake if they attended West Texas State.

Three main points brought out by Kimbrough which he asks of his athletes are a desire for an education, willingness to put forth the utmost effort in practice and competition, and third he looks for size. He says, naturally, he's glad to have big men on his team, but doesn't deem size as important as spirit.

Gus Miller, head of the Physical Education Department and Basketball Coach, made a decided hit with the big crowd with his witty remarks about the members of his team.

Mr. Holt retired as County and District Clerk the first of January and is devoting his time to the abstract business. He is also serving as executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Great Progress Has Been Made in Building Museum

Dr. L. F. Sheffy talked at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on the progress being made on the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.

The society was founded in 1921 by a small number of students, faculty members and citizens of Canyon. Dr. Hattie M. Anderson suggested the founding of the society, and has been a consistent supporter to the enterprise.

The late Thos. F. Turner wrote the original constitution and secured the charter for the society. There are now nearly 600 members.

In 1925-26 J. Evetts Haley was employed as field secretary and brought in vast amounts of materials and interviews. It was soon found that the allotted room in the administration building was not sufficient to hold the relics.

In 1928 the move was started to raise $75,000 for the first unit of the present museum building. Clyde Warwick was in the House and Clint Small was in the Senate and secured an appropriation of $25,000 from the legislature, provided citizens raised an equal amount. Local donations far exceeded the minimum.

Gifts were later received from the Texas Centennial Fund; the Coronado Exhibition Fund and WPA. The war stopped construction on the north unit. In 1944 the board of directors was increased to 75, with a smaller executive committee.

In 1945 the directors started a campaign to raise money. Suggestive minimum allotments of $1,000 per county from 30 Panhandle counties was named. $31,000 has been raised. Randall is one of six counties to subscribe more than the minimum.

A bill is now pending in the legislature to give this museum and the one at Texas Tech $125,000 each to complete construction.

Dr. Sheffy quoted museum authorities, who praised the museum here as one of the greatest in the nation. He paid high tribute to the hundreds of citizens who have made large donations to the construction of the museum, and who have placed here valuable collections of historical materials.

Visitors were: S. B. Whittenburg, Arch Hunsley, Tom Cartwright, F. E. Hobgood, Henry Buttker, Charles A. Green, all of Amarillo.

West Texas Band Will Attend Borger 21st Birthday

Plans for Borger's 21st Birthday Celebration are practically complete. The date is set for March 8, and it is under the sponsorship of the American Legion.

If weather permits, an airplane will fly over Canyon on March 3 dropping circulars and pamphlets giving detailed information about the celebration in Borger.

Bufs Whipped Tuesday Night By Texas Tech

West Texas State Buffaloes were whipped Tuesday night at Lubbock by the Tech Red Raiders. The score was 41 to 57, which indicated a heart breaking defeat for the Bufs.

Head, star of the Raiders, who was held in the first game at Burton gym, got away for 15 points.

Decker was top man for the Bufs, scoring 12 points; and J. W. Malone trailed him with 11 points.

The two teams are now tied for 6th place in the Border Conference. Both teams wind up their season this week, both playing New Mexico A. & M., and the University of New Mexico. The season's wind up will depend upon the ability of the two teams to win both games. A loss by either the Bufs and Tech will put the winning team ahead.

Widows Over 65 Years of Age May Get Benefits

Most widows attaining the age of 65 whose husbands had died after December 31, 1939, and were fully insured under the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system and who received a lump-sum payment may be eligible for monthly benefit checks for the rest of their lives, unless they have remarried, J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Social Security Administration field office at Amarillo, said. These widows must file claims, however, to receive payments and should contact the nearest Social Security Administration office for correct information.

Despite information furnished at the time of husband's death, many widows do not understand they may receive monthly benefits when they reach age 65. Although efforts have been made to contact the widow in these cases, very often she has moved and cannot be located. "Only recently a widow came into our office," Mr. Sanderson said, "and learned that she had lost several months' payments because she had delayed filing."

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Holland and daughter of Muleshoe called on friends here Tuesday. Mr. Holland was formerly local manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co.

Silas Hart attended the football banquet honoring West Texas State's new coaches, given at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Stallings, who has been visiting in the Rio Grande Valley for the past 5 weeks, returned home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hodges of Tulsa were week-end guests in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett of Amarillo were Sunday visitors in the R. D. Lowry home.

Billy Hill left Sunday on a business trip to Dallas.

Editorials

The Taxpayers organization of Potter county takes a swing at Randall county and makes the charge that a so-called scientific property tax survey used by Potter county is used in that part of Randall county which is in Amarillo, but there is no scientific system used in Canyon. This happens to be wrong information which some one has handed the taxpayers organization. It was recommended several years ago that this system be used by the county on property in South Amarillo, but the Commissioners Court did not buy the service. So far as the city of Amarillo and the Amarillo Independent School District are concerned, these taxing agencies are using this tax survey in that part of Randall county which extend across the county line. But so far as Randall county is concerned, the Commissioners are using their own system of reaching taxable values in South Amarillo, the same as in Canyon and the balance of the county. The trouble is that this group of real estate men in Amarillo have been boosting the price of property so much in Amarillo that they are now caught in their own taxation trap. It costs much more to buy a lot and build a house in South Amarillo than in Canyon. Therefore taxable valuations should be higher in that section. But the Commissioners are trying to reach a common value all over the county, as hard as this may be. After all, we have never heard of a just tax—except that imposed on the other fellow. When the tax hits us, the whole thing is wrong.

It seems that OPA tried to make a sucker out of Chief Justice James P. Alexander of the Supreme Court of Texas. The Judge has been renting garage apartments to University of Texas students, and they were required to furnish their own linens and wash the linens themselves. Some blockheaded two-by-four OPA official ruled that the Judge must furnish the linens and do the laundry work. Judge Alexander is not a person to be pushed around. He wrote to Senator W. Lee O'Daniel in Washington, and the matter was laid before the United States Senate by O'Daniel. OPA immediately backed up, and Washington ruled that Judge Alexander would not be required to do the laundry work. It is such outlandish rules as this which has made OPA so unpopular with the citizens. Rent control has been unpopular because of such dictatorial edicts of feather brained field men who tried to rule or ruin. We refer you to one edict in Canyon in which OPA ruled that a 16 room house which had rented for three years previously at the ridiculously low price of $35 per month. OPA said the house must be reduced to $25 per month. Their bluff was called, and OPA backed down. And another house which has stood vacant throughout OPA simply because the owner was forbidden to rent at a fair return on the investment. It is such Hitlerite edicts of unreliable brass hats that have made the people of America revolt against law of irresponsible bureaus which sit as judge and jury on cases.

An indignant people are rebelling against the 16 million union members who are trying to run this government for their own benefit at the expense of the other 124 million people. In Congress and practically every state legislature bills are pending to punish labor racketeers. These are the birds who are imposing rules which are unjust on the public and will eventually lead to the downfall of the nation. If you don't think so, just look at the labor government of England and what is happening to that unfortunate nation. Unfortunately the rank and file of labor is blindly following the edicts of these labor leaders, who are demanding larger wages so that they may collect larger fees, which will increase their slush fund. Not all of these bills will become laws. Most of them should fail. But the public is due protection from these labor groups before it is too late.

The News has taken many cracks at OPA simply because we believe that free enterprise should be given a free hand in meeting domestic problems. We handle much paper during the course of a year—not so much as the government printing shop which consumes about 15 cars per day—but a sizeable pile of paper during the course of the year. During the war there was no black market in paper. The manufacturers held to the prices of OPA, but the quality was certainly cut. Paper is more critical today than at any time during the war. Since OPA was abolished on paper products, print paper has skyrocketed. The quality has improved a little, but not in keeping with the advance of prices. We received a car of print paper this week on which the price had advanced nearly 50% since the last shipment in July, 1946. We are advised that the price will continue to increase because of the large demand of daily newspapers for more print. This is to say that while the Canyon News has not advanced its subscription rates to meet the increased price of news print, we are forced to use every method of conserving our stock. Subscribers must pay their subscriptions promptly, and those not paid in advance will be dropped from the subscription list.

Just where is all the money coming from to support the expensive program for security which is being demanded from all classes of Americans? We have the most extravagant government on the face of the globe—but that is not enough for provide future security—without work—for all citizens who demand it. We have a debt of 268 billions of dollars on the shoulders of the people as a result of the most expensive war ever fought by this nation. Money was thrown away and given away as though Uncle Sam had an inexhaustible source of supply. With a federal debt of approximately $1860 on the shoulders of every person in the nation, to say nothing of state and local debts, the demand continues to increase, including about 90 millions for soldier bonuses for Texans. It will be a happy day when sound business men take charge of our government and try to get value received for the dollars which are being thrown to the winds.

Since the British got their loan from Uncle Sam, it is developed that the British are not going to spend any of this money with out industries—if they can get around it. They are not going to buy wheat from us, except as brokers, shipping wheat to other nations which will pay them in needed goods at lower prices than we will charge them for the same articles. This big loan will turn out just like the one made by Uncle Sam after World War I. We will get gyped out of 3 1/2 billion dollars, as the British have no idea of paying us. The British insist that even the foods we ship to Greece and other nations shall be distributed by men in British uniform, to give the false impression that they are the big hearted donors, rather than free-handed Uncle Sam, who is accustomed to be cheated in international trades.

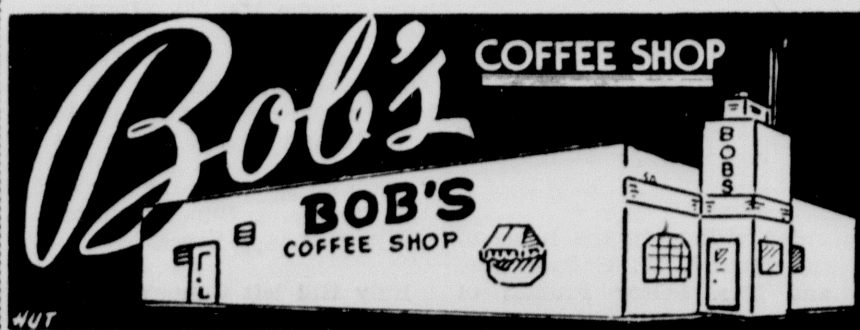

The House of Representatives in Congress has slashed 6 billion dollars from the President's budget. Naturally no Congressman expects such a large cut to be upheld by the Senate. Large cuts are being made in the funds of the army and navy over the protests of officers in high command. Congressmen claim that an adequate armed force may be maintained if the high command will use judgment instead of throwing money away. So many stories of criminal waste have been brought back by the returned veterans, that Congress is determined that the army and navy shall live like the balance of the nation instead of in uncalculated luxury. On top of this, Congress is determined that a million useless employees of the government shall be fired. While the public wants to see an efficient government, we all throw up our hands and rejoice that the government is getting over its lavish ideas and will live by the promises of the Republicans.

CIO Philip Murray admits that jurisdictional disputes between competing unions is the silliest cause ever given for strikes. He promises to get together with AFL William Green to put an end to such foolishness. Why didn't he take action before the heat was turned on and Congress threatened to punish the unions. Just why? Because these labor racketeers thought they were bigger than the government—and maybe they are—at least the present government. Some day a group will rise up and put such ruthless leaders back on their haunches.

Harold Ickes, staunch new dealer who was kicked out of the Truman cabinet, comes out demanding that peace be declared and all war powers of the President be ended. How perfectly silly. If Harold was in the cabinet he would hold on to all war powers for the next 100 years. Peace cannot be declared until a peace treaty is signed. Unfortunately the Russians are holding up peace talks.

President Truman is trying to beat the Republicans to the draw by killing a number of "war agencies" before the Repubs can get around to it. Most of the laws which have been killed have not been the bone of the contention, but every war agency abolished means a little more taxes to be lifted from the shoulders of the people.

If the Republicans have their way maybe you can walk into the post-offices of the nation in a couple of years and be met with a smile. The Repubs promise that the executive order of Roosevelt giving postmasters a life time job shall be repealed, if that party wins in 1948. It is found that practically every post-office in the nation is held by a Democrat, who thinks he has a lifetime lease on his job, with a license to treat the public as he pleases.

Carl Rountree of Lamesa is a candidate for president of the Texas Bar Association. There is no finer man in Texas than our neighbor on the South Plains than Carl Rountree. Whenever we start regretting the time and money spent in being a member of the legislature, up bobs a man whom we would probably never have met except for four years in the House of Representatives—and then all regrets pass. It costs real money to go to the legislature, and the wide acquaintance of good men from every part of the state is the most satisfactory reward. More power to Rountree.

It looks like the more protection the public is given on the highway, the faster "murder by motors" increases. A survey indicates that liquor is at the bottom of a large percent of these deaths, and car wrecks. Traffic cops cannot be at every place on the highway to protect the public. Common sense of the drivers, and alertness of the man at the wheel are important and necessary to prevent wrecks.

The Texas Senate has rejected two of Stevenson's appointments to the Board of Regents for the University of Texas, and two for A. & M. College. Politics? That's what we think. But these institutions will not suffer just because four men have political foes in the Senate, as useful as they might have been to the institutions.

A Dr. N. L. Englehardt, Jr., director of Air Age Education Research, New York, says for some reason or other that popularity of the airplane means people will have smaller families. If the popularity ever gets on a par with that of the automobile, we'll be lucky to have any families at all.

Resistance to British woolen goods is developing in Canada. Canadians normally rely on imports of worsteds and other cloths from England for 30 per cent of their needs. Now the Government's subsidy on cloth imports is removed. The resulting increase in price and growing stocks of fabrics in Canada are causing the drop in buying.

FARMERS!
DON'T MISS...

"MEN WITH A MISSION"

MOVIE IN FULL COLOR, TO BE SHOWN HERE FREE!

A general invitation to farmers of this community and of nearby towns to view "Men with a Mission," a motion picture in full color, has just been issued by Hill Implement Company, Minneapolis-Moline dealer of Canyon, Texas.

The picture will be shown on Feb. 28 at 2:00 o'clock in M-M building. The program arranged for this occasion by the local farm implement dealer will also include refreshments.

The picture tells the story of a boy and a girl who at first seem dissatisfied with their life on the farm and do not appreciate the highly interesting role farmers are playing today in producing the essential needs of humanity and of industry. By a series of amusing incidents they are convinced in the end that modern farmers are men with a mission that challenges the imagination.

The picture also depicts the part farmers and modern farm machinery are playing in expanding production and in meeting growing demands by the world for food and by industry for raw materials produced on farms. Scenes for this picture were filmed entirely in color and in all parts of the United States.

In assuring the farmers of this community that the picture and the program, which are entirely free, will be entertainment events they will long remember, Sam H. Hill said, "To those that saw the show last year, this one is said to be better."

Super and Lives

Devil Says It's
of Salty.

TON—The government has a day recently with a fellow who has learned what Poison 1080 tastes like.

Set of salty, our hero says. Now a fellow who will taste 1080 will skip rope with a live electric wire, play pat-a-cake with a man-eating tiger, and use a strychnine solution as a mouthwash.

Why, 1080 is so deadly your fraidy-cat government won't sell it over any counter. No, it slips it from underneath, and only to cities and states planning rodent control drives directed by experts. It got its name because the first 1,079 attempts to concoct a super poison were failures. The poison was considered tasteless for a long time.

Probably this was because nobody—except some assorted rats, cats, squirrels, rabbits and prairie dogs—ever tasted any.

Unfortunately, they were all too dead to be interviewed.

But today a fish and wildlife leaflet floated in that says flatly that 1080 tastes salty.

How do the F. and W. people know?

"That's easy," Dr. Arnold L. Nelson, assistant chief of the wildlife research division, said. "Somebody tasted it."

And who is this taste bud hero? "Oh, I don't know," replied Nelson. "But somebody did. Probably it was somebody in our Denver laboratory."

Nelson said poison-tasting is simple. A scientist knows the poison's strength. So he doesn't take enough to kill. Then he tastes, but doesn't swallow.

"Not much to it, really."

Would Dr. Nelson duplicate the experiment performed by our unidentified hero?

"Who, me?" asked Dr. Nelson. "Great heavens, no!"

And he turned as pale as 1080.

Jap Abacus Beats Calculating Device

TOKYO. — A Japanese clerk, nimbly flicking the beads of the centuries-old abacus, easily defeated an American operating a modern calculating machine in a speed and accuracy contest before a large audience.

Kiyoshi Matsuzaki's contraption of wire and beads proved superior in addition, division and subtraction problems while Pvt. Thomas N. Wood of Deering, Mo., triumphed only in multiplication. Matsuzaki won the final heat—a composite problem involving the four phases of mathematics.

The army's newspaper, the Stars and Stripes, sponsored the contest after Matsuzaki, employee of the ministry of communications, had challenged the Americans.

After Whistle Whistles, This Kilroy Isn't There

RICHMOND. — The Old Dominion Iron & Steel corporation seeking to add a pastoral touch to the drab surroundings of Bell Isle under the arches of Richmond's Robert E. Lee bridge across the James, planted sweet corn between two mill buildings. That brought in Kilroy.

Kilroy is a mule and as a corn-cultivating instrument he was adequate. He had one shortcoming—he interpreted the blast of a whistle as knock-off time.

Trains aplenty puff along the industrial James and Kilroy's absenteeism became chronic.

General Manager A. A. Adcock ordered Kilroy penned when not shepherded by a plowman. A three-sided enclosure fronting the James was built. Kilroy dug under and belched through. The fence was strengthened, but Kilroy dove into the water and swam to barrier-free land.

Kilroy didn't have a name when Adcock bought him for $125. The name, dear to the G.I. and emblazoned on the walls of Europe and Asia, was selected as a result of his departures.

Fewer Meat Servings Now In Restaurants in Spain

MADRID, SPAIN. — The provincial supply board has ordered the serving of meat in Madrid restaurants limited to Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Similar orders have been issued in other Spanish provinces. Hitherto, steaks and chops have been available, especially in the better restaurants, for 12 to 35 pesetas ($1 to $3), including tax and service.

Radio Telephone Plays New Role: Comes to Aid of Stork

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.—A radio telephone played an important part in the birth of an eight pound, nine ounce girl. When Mrs. Ken McLaughlin became anxious, the prospective father put her into his automobile and picked up the phone on his dashboard and called the doctor. When the couple reached the hospital the doctor was there. Shortly after their arrival Kathleen was born.

Duluth Inaugurates Tuberculosis Drive

Operation CX Designed to End Disease Within City.

DULUTH, MINN.—A 10-year experiment designed to end tuberculosis by using chest X-rays on every incipient case was launched this fall by Duluth.

This city is the first of its population class in the nation to try this case finding on everyone, regardless of age. The plan, known as Operation CX (Chest X-rays) is under direction of Dr. Mario Fischer, city health director, and Dr. Roberts Davis, assistant superintendent of Nopemung sanatorium and director of the mobile X-ray unit.

The X-ray costs about 35 cents a person. The bill will be footed by funds raised from Christmas seal sales and by help from the Nopemung sanatorium.

The mobile X-ray unit, purchased with money raised from the annual Christmas seal sales, is manned by two technicians and a nurse. Volunteer canvassers notify families of each neighborhood before the trailer arrives. X-ray negatives are processed at the sanatorium. Results are reported in two weeks and each person X-rayed receives an individual report.

Total cost of the operation is about $25,000 a year.

The CX operation in St. Louis county began in 1943. In two years the tuberculosis death rate in the operation area dropped 40 per cent faster than in Duluth. The X-rays uncovered three times more tuberculosis than had been known before. Catching these cases early resulted in a higher proportion of improvements and recoveries. More important, early detection greatly reduced the exposure of healthy people to TB carriers.

In Ely, at the start, the incidence of tuberculosis was 82 persons per 100,000. After three years, the incidence was 17 per 100,000. Dr. Fischer said that the Ely experience indicates that a resurvey by X-rays probably is not needed oftener than once each three years.

The taking of chest X-rays is voluntary. In the county the response ranged from 89 to 99 per cent. The county survey incidentally uncovered occasional cases of goiter, lung cancer and heart troubles.

No Wings or Engine, But Gyro-Glider Flies

SCHENECTADY. — A jeep whizzed down a flight runway and launched into the air at the end of a 100-foot towrope an aircraft with no wings and no engine.

The new aircraft, known as the GE gyro-glider, is flown with the aid of two nine-foot rotating blades. It works like an autogyro without a power source.

An announcement said it was the most revolutionary development to date in the glider field.

The gyro-glider weighs only 120 pounds but can lift a cargo of nearly 300 pounds. Its designers said it can land on a spot not more than 50 feet in diameter. It has a descending speed less than that of a parachute.

Details of New B-36 Bombers Disclosed by Army Air Force

WASHINGTON.—Army air forces said its new six-engine B-36 bomber "could carry an atomic bomb to any inhabited region in the world and return home without refueling in the event of an enemy attack."

An official statement giving details of the bomber, which has been described as the world's largest, said production had started at the Consolidated-Vultee plant at Fort Worth, Tex.

The plane is designed for a normal range of 10,000 miles with 10,000 pounds of bombs without extra fuel tanks. At lesser range, the air forces said it could carry 36 tons, more than three times the capacity for the same distance of the B-29.

A new type landing gear is expected to distribute the bomber's 278,000-pound weight over eight wheels. Six 28-cylinder pusher type engines developing a total of 18,000 horsepower will permit the bomber to attain a ceiling of 40,000 feet.

Japanese Government Now Can Buy Surplus U. S. Goods

TOKYO. — Allied headquarters informed the Japanese government that it will be permitted to buy surplus, civilian-type American supplies in Japan.

Peter A. McDermott, chief of headquarters foreign trade division, made the announcement in a statement which explained that the U. S. government has authorized the sales.

He did not estimate the amount of money which might be involved.

Italians Riot Over Royal Flag; Several Wounded

NAPLES, ITALY. — Display of the flag of the exiled house of Savoy during a celebration of Italy's World War I victory over Austria started rioting at Torre del Greco. It took the energetic intervention of the carabinieri to quell the disturbance. A number of persons were wounded and many were arrested when republican supporters opened fire on monarchists attending a special mass.

British businessmen fear that this winter's coal crisis and industrial shutdown will be repeated next year and the year after unless the winter weather then is unusually mild. Even though coal production may rise, there is serious doubt that it can be increased enough to meet current demand and still allow for sufficient stockpiling in advance of winter in 1948 and 1949.

One of the reasons for announcing the military agreement between the U. S. and Canada at the time it was made public was this: Officials were becoming concerned over wild speculation about the development of U. S. bases and weather stations in the North. Much of the speculation was picked up in Moscow and used as ammunition with which to criticize both the U. S. and Canada. Announcement of the details of the agreement is counted on to cut off rumors about the "inside story" of military relations between the two countries.

New Giant Cyclotron May Bare Atom Secrets

10 Times More Powerful Than Any Now in Use.

BERKELEY, CALIF. — Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, Nobel prize winner and pioneer in atom smashing, announced that University of California's new cyclotron — 10 times more powerful than any now in use — had been completed.

The 4,000-ton machine probably will begin helping scientists discover new realms of atomic energy within two or three months, Lawrence said.

Lawrence revealed that the new cyclotron — third to be constructed at the university — would have been completed at least two years ago had not the Manhattan district taken the 184-inch magnet for secret work on the atomic bomb.

Ground was broken for construction of the massive cyclotron in August, 1940. The magnet, three times as big as the largest now in use, never was installed in the cyclotron until after the war because it was used to separate U-235 from other uranium.

The physicist said exhaustive pre-operational tests would be necessary.

Lawrence revealed also that another atom-smashing machine, the synchrotron, would be finished early in 1947.

With it, scientists hope to study the fundamental forces which hold matter together.

The cyclotron and the synchrotron have different functions in atomic research, according to Dr. Edward M. McMillan, one of the co-discoverers of neptunium, element 93, which was used in the manufacture of the atomic bomb.

McMillan, who invented the synchrotron, said the apparatus would accelerate electrons to energies of 300 million volts.

The speed with which the synchrotron accelerates electrons will convert them into cosmic rays and atom-smashing will "mount a new threshold," Lawrence said.

The new cyclotron and the synchrotron will give the United States world leadership in atom-smashing, it was said.

Only Cowards Change

By VICTOR DI CASTRI
WNU Features.

MRS. FEATHERHUGH looked over the brick wall of her pink terrace into the sunken garden below and as the sun played on the clumps of purple and yellow flowers she resolved again, that no matter what, she would make that Mary Smith realize that although Jim had only been Pfc. in the army he was still a Featherhugh and a Featherhugh had no business marrying a nursing sister called Mary Smith under any circumstances.

Well, it wouldn't be very long now. Any moment a car would stop in the driveway at the foot of the lawn which rolled away from the rock garden. It would take courage to put her son's wife in her proper place the moment she arrived but it had to be done. Mrs. Featherhugh believed it was all in the way people started their relationships that counted.

But here was the car. She smoothed her carefully groomed gray hair nervously and as the car came to a stop she steered herself for the test she knew was imminent.

In a matter of seconds a girl with dark hair falling to her shoulders and wearing a blue coat with large white buttons, stepped out, looked about her and then up the flight of flagstone steps that lead to the terrace. The girl waved.

She steered herself for the test she knew was imminent.

After what seemed to be an eternity her son slowly got out of the car and as he got to his feet he reached for his wife's arm and then he steadied himself with a cane.

Mrs. Featherhugh wanted to run to him but with an iron will she restrained herself. He couldn't be seriously wounded or he would have told me, she told herself. Besides, if he thought so much of the girl down there that he married her without my approval, why should I fall all over him now? I'll stay right here till they come up.

Mrs. Featherhugh hoped she wouldn't cry. Everything within her wanted her to rush towards her son and take him in her arms but that girl with him was an impossible barrier. "No, I won't do it. I won't do it," Mrs. Featherhugh screamed silently to her heart.

She watched anxiously as the girl whispered something to her husband and then while he just stood there she ran up the steps.

"I'm Mary," the girl said, and held out her hand.

Mrs. Featherhugh reluctantly admitted that Mary was even prettier than her picture, but this was no time for comparisons. "How do you do?" The words were brittle.

Mary was obviously taken back as she repeated, "I'm Jim's wife, Mary." "Yes?" "You're his mother, aren't you?" "Yes." "Well, don't just stand there. Say something," Mrs. Featherhugh's eyes narrowed. The girl had spirit.

For a moment the two women just looked at each other and then Mary said calmly, but with obvious bitterness, "I see. You've got all this." With a sweep of her hand Mary took in the gardens and the huge stone house behind the terrace. "I've got nothing. I'm nobody. Well, that's where you're wrong, Mrs. Featherhugh. People in love have everything and they're very important people. They can't add it up and tell you what it is or who they are but—"

Mary turned, took a step towards her husband, and then changed her mind. She faced her mother-in-law and said quietly, "Mrs. Featherhugh, Jim is very anxious to see his mother again. He remembers you as a very special sort of mother. He has told me about you dozens of times. I thought I knew you so well that I was sure that when we met I would feel as if I had known you all my life. But I guess you've changed."

"War changes everyone," Mrs. Featherhugh said.

"How dare you?"

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Featherhugh, but we can't keep Jim waiting down there forever. He's come home to see the mother he left behind. That's the only one he's going to be able to see for a long time."

"Jim has had a partial blindness for some time. It's improving and with proper attention," she smiled and added, "of course, there's more than a chance. But you and I have got to pull together."

Jim couldn't see that his mother had her arm around his wife, but in a little while he heard Mary call, "Here's your mother, Jim!"

Rodeo Planned For Campus

West Texas State will go "back in the saddle again" April 19 at an all-college contestant rodeo to be held at Buffalo Stadium and sponsored by the West Texas State Agricultural Club.

Red Weatherly, Aggie president, wants everyone to "sharpen his spurs" and bring his "broomtail" to the doin's, which will include about 11 events.

Rough Schedule

Wild cow milking for both men and women, steer riding, loose rope bronc bustin', calf roping for men and women and bulldozing are a few of the contests that will make up the schedule.

The rodeo will last one day with two shows, one starting at 2:30 in the afternoon and the other at 7:30 in the evening.

Admission at the gate is to be one dollar and the proceeds will go to the Agricultural Loan Fund.

Range Riders Here

The club plans to invite the Range Riders and several colleges.

No price has been set for the entrance fee of the contestants in each event, but those interested may see Red at a later date. He went on to explain: "purses will be given in every event but the amount of each is as yet indefinite."

Arrangements for the rodeo stock are still in progress by the Aggie Club; however, they assure the public of having a sufficient number of good, salty "critters."

Additional entertainment is to be furnished by the West Texas Band. Also a big all-college dance will be staged following the rodeo.

The French public is so disturbed over shortages and the generally weakened condition of their own country that they are saying openly they can't be concerned about any future plans for Germany. This circumstance is having an influence on the French Government's attitude toward Allied discussions on reviving German industry.

Tours for Overseas

Soldiers Increased

Opportunities for travel in countries of Europe and in the occupied Pacific areas for United States military personnel on furlough from occupation duties have been increased and tour itineraries altered to suit seasonal changes.

Army special services overseas sponsors tours to most of the countries of Europe organized through facilities of American Express company and with co-operation of various allied nations good will committees. Tours may be taken by dependents and affiliated agency employees as well as by military personnel.

Furloughs for military personnel are arranged to coincide with tour schedules. Prices are well within the resources of the average G.I.

In the European theater the program includes conducted tours to Paris and the Riviera, Switzerland and Rome, United Kingdom, Ireland, Netherlands, Denmark, and Czechoslovakia, with plans to include Norway, Sweden and Greece. It is also possible that Palestine and Egypt may be included in the program. In the Pacific and Far East, tours more local in character center about large cities and resorts of occupied areas.

U. S. Has Deficit of 300

Millions First Four Months

WASHINGTON.—Treasury figures showed the federal government finished the first four months of the current fiscal year with a deficit of $300,841,791.

Late October spending wiped out a surplus established early in the month, topping receipts from taxes by $420,148,049.

The debt on October 31 was reported as $263,917,666,707, but that did not take into account a $2,000,000 cash redemption of securities maturing November 1.

British Private Trade in

Rubber Will Be Restored

LONDON.—Secretary H. P. Marquand of the board of trade's overseas trade department said Britain would restore private trading in rubber and permit re-establishment of the London rubber market.

Marquand said this would permit private traders to import rubber after January 1 and that the board of trade would cease to purchase rubber then.

Invents Ice-Fishing Boat,

Keeps Fishers From Ducking

BUFFALO, N. Y.—John A. Willis, 102, has added another invention, an ice-fishing boat, to 90 years of tinkering.

The boat has an opening in the middle surrounded by a 10-inch wall.

"The fisherman can place this over the hole they cut in the ice," Willis explained. "If the ice breaks, they will be afloat—not struggling in freezing water."

HIS TEMPLES of WORSHIP

PICTURED here are various types of churches, ranging in cost from a few hundred dollars to over a million. The imposing structure in center is one of the most beautiful in America. Its physical equipment consists of almost everything possible for man to build into "HIS Temple of Worship."

Elsewhere on this page are pictured other types of churches in different cost brackets. You'll find in every community in America a church suited to the likes of those it serves.

A community without a church would be a poor place to live indeed. In city or hamlet throughout this land you'll find the rich and the poor flocking to the church of their choice on Sunday with a common faith and a common purpose.

The church points the way to a fuller and more useful life. Resolve to attend your church every Sunday.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

American tourists are to be given passports for travel in Europe this summer. Pleasure trips may be made in the British Isles and on the Continent. To get a passport, Americans must prove that they have return transportation and hotel or other living accommodations abroad assured in advance. Some 70,000 tourists are expected to spend U. S. dollars in Europe this summer. Travel of businessmen still is to have priority.

Denmark is converting factories power plants and railways from coal to fuel oil. Coal, imported chiefly from the U. S. is inadequate and costly for the Danes, who are critically short of U. S. dollars. The nation's fuel oil requirements are to be doubled and will amount to more than 700,000 tons a year.

Australian immigration efforts are handicapped by a shortage of shipping. Original plan was to get 70,000 skilled workers from labor-short Britain. The shipping situation has pared that figure down to 6,000 for this year. Now the Australians are out to get between 25,000 and 50,000 Americans to emigrate to the Commonwealth.

Nearly Million Vets Enrolled

Strengthen Force Capable Of Rapid Mobilization In an Emergency.

WASHINGTON.—The war department disclosed that the army's post-war reserve force is taking definite shape with nearly a million officers and G. I. veterans enrolled. At scheduled rates or faster, officials indicated, the framework of the reserve corps is going up at the same time the regular army is steadily declining in size and the smaller national guard is trying to conquer difficulties in getting men to fill out its ranks.

The reserve, under army plans, will be an elastic force capable of emergency expansion to three million men.

Fewer than 700,000 would be in full strength units ready for M-Day mobilization.

Lift Information Ban.
Lifting a temporary official ban on information which followed heated criticism of war department policies by leaders of the national guard association disclosed these developments:

1. The entire relationship between the organized reserve corps and the national guard has been under official review with no hint whether War Secretary Patterson and General Eisenhower, army chief of staff, have approved changes.

Major General Reckord, Maryland's adjutant general, told the national guard association at its Buffalo meeting that the war department had engaged in "double dealing" by favoring the reserves in postwar reorganization. He asserted there had been "silly, uneconomic competition" for manpower between the army's two major civilian components.

2. More than 2,000 ground force reserve units already have been activated in class "C," or skeleton form, with only officers assigned. Flight retraining of wartime flyers has been started at 48 army air fields, of 130 contemplated in official plans.

3. Latest reports list some 524,000 enlisted men enrolled for three years, along with 444,624 officers, who signed up for five years upon release from active wartime service. Former G. I.s initially were slow to obligate themselves to peacetime training and to immediate active duty in an emergency.

Establish Headquarters.
By comparison, the national guard, organized into units trained for M-Day readiness, hopes to enroll no more than a third of its full strength of 682,000 by next July.

4. Reserve headquarters now have been set up in all 48 military districts, corresponding generally to the states, and instructors assigned to most.

Current conferences on policy are expected to develop new specific proposals to be submitted to congress for training "class A" full strength reserve units on a part-time basis, with the same rates of pay as provided for the national guardsmen.

Twenty-five reserve divisions are to be organized, to the national guard's 27, including 17 infantry divisions, 3 armored and 5 airborne. In addition there are to be some 16 separate anti-aircraft, engineer and corps military brigades.

Mail Sent From Germany

Not Wanted by Yugoslavia

BERLIN.—Yugoslavia, which for some weeks has been refusing to admit mail dispatched from Germany, has formally notified Allied occupying powers that she does not desire to resume postal exchange with Germany, American military government announced.

Yugoslavia is the second nation to refuse restoration of mail exchange, which was authorized several months ago between Germany and all countries except Japan and Spain.

Finland was the first to refuse and did so promptly with the statement that she did not desire resumption "at this time."

Known as William Cary, the retired painter and decorator was christened:

13 Airlines Connect U. S. to 60 Nations

200,000 Miles of Air Routes Have Been Surveyed.

WASHINGTON.—United States airlines have been authorized to fly approximately 200,000 miles of international air routes radiating from 21 United States cities to every area of the world, a survey showed.

Thirteen airlines hold franchises for these routes, extending into some 60 foreign countries and colonial areas.

Now it is up to the state department to make operation of all these routes possible by negotiating landing rights agreements. This already has been done with most European and Middle East countries. The toughest jobs lie ahead in Asia and Latin America.

From New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and Detroit, three airlines—Pan American, American Overseas and Trans World—now fly the Atlantic.

American Airlines, Braniff Airways, Chicago and Southern Air Lines, Eastern Air Lines, National Airlines and Western Air Lines have been awarded Latin American routes in competition with Pan American, which has obtained additional grants there.

In the same proceeding CAB granted Colonial Airlines a route from Washington and New York to Bermuda.

United States cities affected by the new Latin routes are El Paso, San Antonio, Fort Worth-Dallas, Houston, Laredo, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, New Orleans, Miami, Tampa, Washington, New York, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Trans-Pacific routes extend from Seattle, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Chicago, New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Northwest Airlines will fly from the first four across Canada and Alaska to Japan, China and the Philippines. At Shanghai it will connect with TWA's east-bound route to form a round-the-world service.

Pan American will fly from the California cities, as before the war, via Honolulu to the Orient, connecting with its eastbound in India, to form another round-the-world service. It also will fly to Australia.

Greenland Reported

Sinking Into the Ocean

COPENHAGEN.—Members of a Danish scientific expedition reported that Greenland is sinking into the sea at the rate of about 60 inches per century.

The scientists, just returned from Greenland, said it had been ascertained the 834,000-square-mile island is slipping back into the sea at an increasing rate. One hundred years ago, the island sank at the rate of only 40 inches per century.

The scientists also predicted that Greenland's tropical climate of 10,000 years ago is gradually returning, but made no prediction as to the length of time it would take for the present Arctic climate to disappear altogether.

Baby Crop in Netherlands

Records Sharp Increase

NEW YORK.—Birth rates for the Netherlands have been increasing sharply in the last year, the Netherlands information bureau here reports. Current rate of 35.4 per thousand compares with 20.1 per thousand before the war and reflects a large increase in the number of marriages.

The bureau says this birth rate never before was approached in the country. The famine which ravaged the country immediately after the war had its effect in a very low birth rate in large cities, which reported a rate of 14.8 for January, 1946, but that rate has been climbing until the latest report from the large cities shows a rate of 38.1 per thousand.

The country also reports a low death rate, although statisticians suggest that many premature deaths among older people during the famine may be partly responsible for the better showing now.

Construction Activities

Beginning to Level Off

WASHINGTON.—Construction activity "began to level off" in September after a steady rise since the end of the war, the bureau of labor statistics reported.

Both employment—2,307,000 workers—and expenditures were slightly below August figures. Home construction shared in the decline.

The slackening is typical of the season, the BLS report said, but "material shortages and cost uncertainties probably were retarding influences preventing still further expansion at the present time."

Duke of Windsor No Longer

Setting Fashions for Men

LONDON.—The Duke of Windsor "no longer is setting fashions, but following them," Chanticleer, editorial page columnist of the London Daily Herald, said.

The former king, now visiting England, is "not the well dressed man he used to be," Chanticleer said, quoting the sentiment of British tailors as expressed by the editor of their trade journal.

PALACE CAFE*Adjustments In Old Age Assistance
Announced Recently

The Canyon office of the State Department of Public Welfare has completed a desk review of all Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Needy Blind grants following action of the State Legislature in making more State money available for assistance, Mrs. Vivian Cummings of the local office announced today.

Adjustments are being made on all cases where increases are justified. The increases will be in checks for the month of March.

Mrs. Cummings pointed out that a blanket increase of all claims will not be made but that the standard food chart figures have been revised upward in accordance with the percentage of advance in food prices since the time of the last cost survey some two years ago. The number of persons in a family depending on the aid benefits will also be taken into consideration, Mrs. Cummings said.

Raises will range from $1 to $3 per month. The local office by working overtime last week was able to make adjustments on all claims. It, therefore, will not be necessary for individual recipients to have to come to the office.

The additional appropriation will allow money for payment of full claims in the Aid to Dependent Children program. Heretofore, due to limited funds, allocations were made to allow as much per case as possible but rarely was there enough funds available to pay the full amount authorized, Mrs. Cummings said.

Approximately 190,000 aged and 5,100 needy blind will get increases amounting to $500,000 or $600,000 over the state as a result of elimination of the ceiling. The 30,000 dependent children will receive around $200,000 per month.

It is becoming clear that last year's drought in the Ukraine was much more serious to Russia than reports have indicated up to now. There is considerable evidence that the drought actually was the most critical in Russia in more than 50 years. ### Henderson-Oetken Vows Read In Impressive Church Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. WARREN DALE OETKEN

Tall baskets of flowers, flanked by candelabra bearing lighted tapers, decorated the altar of the First Baptist Church on February 17, for the marriage of Miss Lorraine Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson of Happy, to Mr. Warren Dale Oetken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart Oetken of Burlington, Iowa.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor, read the double ring service at 9 o'clock. Miss Anna Lee Hill, pianist, played "Traumerli" by Schumann while the guests were being seated. The traditional wedding music was also played by Miss Hill.

Ben Simmons of Amarillo and J. C. Henderson of Happy, uncle and brother of the bride, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Attending her sister as maid-of-honor, Miss Edna Earle Henderson wore a street length dress of powder blue, styled similar to the bride's dress, and a corsage of white lilies.

Paul Gerling of Burlington, Iowa, was best man.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a street length dress of white wool, styled with a basque waist, puffed sleeves with long fitted cuffs, and black accessories. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, belonging to Mrs. Oetken. She carried a white Bible, topped with white sweet peas and sensation roses.

The bride's mother was attired in a black crepe dress, with matching accessories, and the groom's mother wore a green suit and black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the parlor of the church. The attractively appointed serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with lighted tapers in crystal holders. Miss Henderson presided at the punch bowl and Miss Cheri Kilchristie served the wedding cake. Miss Paula Jean Frazier secured names for the bride's book.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home near Burlington, Iowa. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue suit with patent accessories.

Mrs. Oetken is a graduate of Happy High School and was a senior at West Texas State at the time of her marriage. Mr. Oetken finished school in Burlington, Iowa, and spent two years in the United States Army.

Some state officials, in and out of Texas, continue to talk about the bureaucrats in Washington. They overlook the fact that there exists in Austin—or in the capital of any state—bureaucracies probably as vicious as those they condemn in Washington, only those operating in state capitals may be on a lesser scale than those existing in the national capital.

Nearly every community in the state has had some experience with the bureaucrats that exist in their state capitals. Any project planned by a community which may rely on and need state participation, usually requires the community to engage in a bit of political fenagling to attain.

Too often the accepted practice has been for a community to send a delegation to the state capital to see the particular department involved in the proposed plans. The delegation is made up of the most influential persons in the community. They go armed with a "brief" to back up their requests. If the delegation is "influential" enough, their "brief" will be given "Favor-

No matter how well known the community's problem may be—not how beneficial it may be to the entire state, chances are that the particular state department's interest in the program will be in proportion to how much political influence the community, or its delegation may have.

There are few instances of a community receiving any substantial financial aid from state departments without requests are made by a delegation of citizens. ## Vows Read In Church Ceremony

Nuptial vows were solemnized for Wanda M. Pennington, 611 Jefferson, Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pennington of Shamrock, and John P. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Morris of Canyon, on Friday, Feb. 14.

Rev. J. L. Morris, brother of the bridegroom, read the double-ring service in the parlor of Polk Street Methodist Church. While the guests assembled, Mrs. Ethel Townsend, pianist, played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Herbert, "Always" by Berlin and "Together" by DeSylvia. Introducing the ceremony, H. A. Shaw sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond and "Because" by D'Hardelot. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Palms and basket arrangements of white snapdragons, flanked by candelabra, bearing lighted cathedral tapers, formed the setting for the exchange of vows.

Mrs. L. G. McKinney, bridesmaid, was attired in a turquoise faille gown with a matching headpiece, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of sweet peas and gladioli. Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. H. G. Ewton wore a pink marquisette over taffeta gown with a matching headpiece, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of gladioli and sweet peas.

David Morris was his brother's best man and Homer Gene Ewton, brother-in-law of the bride, and J. A. Havens, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a high round neckline, long fitted sleeves, seed pearl trim on the sheer yoke of the fitted bodice and full skirt extending into a court train. Her finger-tip length veil fell from a coronet of flowers and seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and showered with white ribbons knotted with sweet peas.

Mrs. Pennington, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Morris, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Denver, Colo. For traveling, the bride chose a gray wool crepe suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple is at home at 1018 Fillmore, Apt. G., Amarillo.

Mrs. Morris was graduated from Shamrock High School and attended Holmes School of Shorthand. She has been employed at Amarillo Army Air Field for the past five years. Mr. Morris was graduated from West Texas High school, Canyon, and served three and one-half years in the Navy Air Corps.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Prince, Mr. and Mrs. Gable Prince, Noolie Prince and Miss Joy Sweeney of Borger; Mrs. Clyde Medkief of Pampa, J. A. Havens and Miss Elsie Havens of Tahoka; Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Morris of Alameda, Cal.; Mrs. Johnnie Douglas, Mrs. Robert Terry, Mrs. T. D. Bland and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burgess of Shamrock; Mrs. Homer Ewton of Hereford; Miss Ruth Yandell of O'Donnell and Hubert Waldrop of Canyon.

Wes Izzard Will Address
Association in Afternoon

Press members of high school publications staffs over the Panhandle District will meet in Canyon next Saturday at WTSC for their annual PHSPA Association.

Registration will begin at 10:00, and will continue until the opening session in the college auditorium at 11:00.

At noon the 200 members will banquet in the basement of the Methodist Church.

In the first general session of the afternoon, the group will be addressed by Wes Izzard, after which honors will be awarded to winning contestants, and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Later group meetings will feature speakers on different phases of news writing, and the editing of the high school annual.

Entertainment will be furnished by singers, readers, and tap dancers from the college.

A picnic supper will conclude the meeting.

Speech Winner Is Muriel F. Cope

Muriel Faye Cope is winner of the American Legion Speech contest held in the Legion Hall last Monday, February 17, and will represent the district in Amarillo, March 7.

The title of her declamation is, "The Rights and Responsibilities of the American Citizen Under the Constitution," and for receiving first place she was given $15 in cash and a gold medal.

In her extemporaneous four minute speech, she spoke on Article three, Section three of the constitution.

Betty Ann Miller, who won second place, received $10.00. She spoke on the same subject but her extemporaneous speech was on Article one, Section eight of the constitution.

"It was a pleasure working with the girls and I am sure they'll never regret the many times we drilled on words, voice, and expression. It is one of the most worthwhile activities and especially the practice in speaking extemporaneously. I do wish more would participate," states Mrs. Hornstra.

Basketballers Attend Birthday Gathering

Both the Eagles and Eaglettes were guests at Joyce Carter's birthday party, which was held in the Ray Metcalf home, February 19.

A wide variety of games were played at this entertainment sponsored by Mrs. Ray Metcalf and Mrs. J. Carter.

Chicken salad sandwiches, pickles, punch, mint candy, and a large birthday cake were served to the basketball players.

Assemblies Offer Added Features

Assembling in the auditorium, Monday morning, February 24, the students of CHS were presented one of the series of March of Time educational films. This one was entitled "Greece," pertaining to present day conditions in the country.

Monday afternoon the students again had an assembly. Reverend Hubert Thomson and the visiting minister from Plainview, Reverend Peterson, made short talks announcing the Methodist Revival through March 2.

Mr. Jerry Newman from WTSC made an announcement about the Variety Show held at Canyon High Monday night, sponsored by the Lion's Club with proceeds going to help build a new city library building.

As an added feature, Max Bellah and Donna Erwin played "Pomp and Circumstance" as a duet.

"Men Undersea," by Harold B. Davidson, will be presented Monday, March 3, in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Davidson is a professional deep sea diver, who served as a salvage expert in the navy. It is no small satisfaction to him that the Navy has patented a device he invented for salvaging oil from sunken ships.

Uncle Jay Visits CHS Ag Boys

Johnny Lynn (Uncle Jay) of Amarillo was guest speaker at the regular FFA meeting Tuesday night, February 18, held in the Canyon High School auditorium.

Mr. Lynn made a short talk on "What We Desire from Life." He mentioned four things that most of us want from life. They were: wealth, power, pleasure, and knowledge! He left the impression that these four desires were worthless unless they be used to create.

After the talk Uncle Jay spent the rest of the hour explaining how transcripts were made for radio broadcast and he made transcripts of interviews with the boys which were broadcasted over the radio station KGNC on Thursday, February 20, Saturday, February 23, and Tuesday, February 25, other numbers on the program were music by Eugene Morris, Bobby King, and Robert O'Donald.

FFA Sweetheart

Martha Jean Avent will serve as FFA Sweetheart for the coming year. She was recently elected by the local Ag Chapter.

She is a junior in CHS and is one of our leading girl basketball players, having topped all honors for the Eaglettes in the scoring of the past season.

Last year she played on the volleyball team, when CHS won District honors. She has also served as a reporter on The Eagle's Tale.

Paul Crouch from Lubbock demonstrated the Sound-mirror which records sounds on an iron coated paper tape in Mr. Wooten's office last Monday afternoon. If you care to know more about this machine you may do so by looking in the February 10, issue of Life magazine.

Perhaps Eisenhower would make a good President at that. By now he should be able to take such things as civic celebrations in stride, and any ex-soldier will argue that for him government red tape would be as nothing.

Friona Captures District Tourney

Two Avert Sisters Place
On Meet's Second String

Fighting hard the CHS Eaglettes went down beneath Lakeview, Friday night in the second round of games in the Girls' District Basketball Meeting at Panhandle, 9:30, Friday night, February 21, with a close score of 32-40.

By running over Hedley, Friday morning, the Friona girls got in the finals and defeated Kelton, Saturday night, to win District Title for the fourth consecutive year. Lakeview won the consolation trophy. The state meet will be at Hillsboro.

High-point man during the Lakeview-Canyon game was Martha Jean Avent who basketed 17 points. She was also captain with Juanita Avent acting as co-captain.

On the first all-district team, twelve girls were chosen, six of which were from the winning team, Friona. A second string consisting of twelve was also selected and Canyon placed two girls on it, Martha Jean Avent, forward, and Juanita Avent, guard.

Ten teams attended the tourney out of twelve possible entrants. They were: Claude, Briscoe, Hedley, McLean, Nacareth, Samnorwood, Groom, Lakeview, Canyon, Kelton, and Friona. The Hereford and Happy ball clubs didn't attend because of earlier disbandment.

Officials of the games were Kendrick and Knowles.

'Super Suds' Tests Speakers' Voices

"Super Suds, Super Suds, lots more suds from Super Suds"—such or similar were the warblings of members of the speech class as they dramatized radio commercials in the auditorium, Monday.

While Peggy LaLoge was displaying her advertising ability on a super-duper spot remover which seemed to remove everything, (even to the epidemics,) she was interrupted by a furious woman and two girls, in other words Claudie Beavers, Sue Jennings, and Joan Hicks, who had a terrible complaint to make about the spot remover eating holes in their clothes and ruining their complexion.

Have you ever heard of Smoothy-Woody Girdles? If you haven't (and we hadn't) you can get the inside information about them from Marselete Wilson or Fay Kenney.

It was a peppy little song that Wilbert Long sang about Klean-O (a wash powder, or something to that effect) while James Rigby did the speaking for the third commercial.

Peggy Moore, Mary Devin, and Harry Reeves gave a skit on egg-shampoo. (Draw your own conclusions.)

Martha Jean Avent, Joanna Haines and Bobby Ford gave a hot little number on Super Suds. It seems that they got Kilroy and (open the door) Richard mixed up it some way. (Knowing them, you can probably understand.)

Snoodle rags (Kleanex to you) was the commercial of Dorothy Gafford, Gracie Boyd, and Zonelle Gregg.

There are 138 girls enrolled in CHS Junior and Senior high.

CHEAP TALK

"Your political antagonist is calling you every name he can think of," said the agitated friend.

"Don't interrupt him," answered Senator Sorghum. "It is better to have a man searching the dictionary for epithets than going after your record for facts."

Guess he figured future residents would be going around in circles most of the time, anyway.

Here I am back with the latest dope—well most of it. You'll just have to pardon me if I miss some because: (?)

Say that gal by the name of Dorothy Gafford really gets around. It seems as though she had lunch Thursday with a new beau, Claude Garth.

Ole Cal's been wondering who that certain Junior girl is that thinks Bill Davis has the most beautiful plaid shirts. By the way, are you sure it's the shirts you're after.

I was walking down the hall and noticed that C. L. Hood was wearing a Senior girl's ring. That ring couldn't have A. Z. G. engraved on it could it?

It seems that Joan Hicks, Charles Ponds, Claudine Beavers, and Travis Montgomery are seen a lot together. Quite a foursome, isn't it?

Yes, that's right, Larry Roush and Max Bellah were seen showing a couple of girls the big city of Canyon Wednesday night. (Canyon that is.)

Who is that certain girl, that certain girl, Mary Sue Foster would like to meet in a secluded spot. Just keep guessing, but it couldn't be a girl from a neighboring town down south?

Muriel Faye, who was that good looking man that took you and Othella home Thursday night? What! You're not talking. Can't say that I blame you, because I would like to have a big hunk of man to myself, too!

By the way which Senior girl is it that thinks Wilbert Long is about the cutest thing in the world. Now Wilbert don't get the big head!

Guy Brant, may I ask you a certain question? Whose lipstick were you wearing on your shirt? I'll admit it was a pretty shade!

What's the matter, Wayne Kelso, can't you make up your mind! You go to math and make eyes at Fay Kinney, in the library it's Carol Smith, and then in speech, it's Peggy Jean Moore! (This younger generation.)

It seems as though Betty Maddux is still going strong for Charles Donnell. We have seen him going to see her on his motorcycle every Saturday night.

Q. B. ABBOTT

Two of our own 1946 football backfield players were not only stars to us, but Billy Abbott and Charles Wright were placed on all-district backfield last week.

Coaches, superintendents, and principals from each school in our district had supper Wednesday night in the lunch room, afterwards going to the Home Ec. room for a business meeting. Special guests were: Joe Sealing from Dalhart, Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnigan from West Texas.

30-LOVE!

Have you ever noticed our tennis courts?

If you haven't you should take a look at them. Weeds have grown up all over the courts, the high fences have been torn down, and the concrete has been damaged to a great extent.

Reason for such damage is that students have driven heavy objects across the grounds or dropped them unintentionally upon the concrete. Cows have also been allowed to graze over this property.

If the courts were rid of weeds and were refined again, with fences and concrete repaired, and proper care taken of them, they would furnish hours of fun for students, who love the game.

Can't we have a general work day to repair these courts? You that are interested, huh?

Students in Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grade are beginning a foods unit during which they are studying vegetables, fruits, etc. and their various sources. The youngsters are also decorating their room with pictures, drawings, and posters to illustrate this unit.

Mrs. Goodman's third grade students have begun a unit pertaining to the Dutch and are making drawings, preparing notebooks, and reading stories. This class won the PTA dollar for having the largest attendance of parents at the last meeting.

Mrs. Boyd Moore was a visitor in Mrs. Cousins' fourth grade classes last week. This class is doing research work and giving reports on various types of houses. Their room is decorated with designs composed of different types of vegetables, which the students drew and colored while studying Spanish.

Washington Newsletter

By Congressman Eugene Worley

The gravest danger which has menaced the livestock industry of the United States, the dread foot and mouth disease, has cropped up in Old Mexico. The importation of several hundred head of bulls from Brazil into Mexico last year brought the disease and unless prompt and effective action is taken by the United States and Mexico, it could and will undoubtedly spread to Texas and all over the United States.

This disease, according to competent testimony taken by us members of the special group of the Committee on Agriculture of the House, attacks and can be transmitted by cattle, hogs, sheep and goats, and other cloven-footed animals and is highly infectious. In addition, the germs may be carried on the shoes, clothing, or bodies of persons, feet or bodies of poultry, birds, dogs, cats, or other animals which may have been in the immediate vicinity of infected animals; also by insects, particles of straw or litter which may be carried by the wind; and in many other ways. For example, a tourist could fly overnight by commercial plane from Mexico to New York and be a carrier of the disease, and infect the dairy cattle in New York, thousands of miles from the infected cattle. It can spread like a prairie fire.

The United States has had seven outbreaks of the foot and mouth disease since 1900, which have cost the State and Federal Governments in excess of two hundred million dollars. The most serious occurred in 1914, spreading to 22 states and the District of Columbia. In that year it was necessary to slaughter 172,222 head of cattle, hogs and sheep in this country to eradicate the disease. Only by herculean efforts and tremendous financial costs was it finally stamped out. Should it again spread to this country, it could cost multiplied millions of dollars in losses to both our livestock and farming industries.

So serious is the threat of this disease that the House Committee on Agriculture last week promptly reported to Congress measures which would provide full cooperation between this country and Mexico in taking any steps necessary to completely eradicate the disease. We hope to have immediate and full approval of the Congress and President in order to begin a quick attack on the infected cattle in Mexico. The Mexican Border has been closed to cattle shipments into the United States but it is impossible to effectively close the Border to human beings and other carriers of the dread disease. Especially is this true of buzzards and other birds which are probable carriers. The foot and mouth virus is so tiny it can hardly be seen under a microscope and to date no quick and positive remedy except prompt slaughter and burial of infected livestock is known. Since this virus has no respect for international state line, it is imperative this country fight it where it exists and not wait until it reaches our own animals.

In the proposed legislation Congress has asked for thirty day progress reports from the Department of Agriculture so we may be kept informed as to exactly what is being done to exterminate and prevent the spread of this disease.

A group of Texas Congressmen, together with representatives of the Cattle Raisers' Association, called on President Truman to enlist his active support. We found him thoroughly familiar with the facts and seriousness of conditions in Mexico and their probable danger to our own livestock industry. He promised his full support in every respect.

As a matter of precaution, I most earnestly suggest to any owner of livestock that he immediately contact his local veterinarian or his County Agent should any of his livestock show any symptoms of foot and mouth disease. May I also urge further that such owner, veterinarian or county agent immediately contact me by wire or long distance telephone at the Capitol in Washington, D. C.

Billions of Dollars' Worth Of War Materials Sold At Big Reduction.

WASHINGTON.—Billions of dollars worth of war materials shipped overseas to whip Germany and Japan are being sold at an average of slightly less than one-fourth of the original cost. Furthermore, less than half of the returns involve actual cash deals or cancellation of debts. The others represent credits extended to other countries to make purchases, trades for real estate or use of congressionally authorized funds for "cultural exchanges" and for Philippine rehabilitation.

Secretary of State Byrnes, in his quarterly report on disposal of American surplus war goods abroad, said the sales return has "far exceeded" original hopes. The report showed that up to October 1 the United States had:

Motors Most Valuable.

Sold property costing $5,870,000,000 for $1,400,000,000—a return of roughly 24 cents on the dollar.

Disposed of an additional $603,000,000 worth in these ways: Abandonment as "unsalable" ($427,000,000); transfers to UNRRA as a part of the United States contribution ($142,000,000), and donations to charitable, religious and educational organizations ($34,000,000).

The goods, sold in all parts of the world, included foods, medicines, clothes, fuel, rubber products, iron, steel and other minerals, trucks, railroad equipment, industrial machinery, ships and planes. On the basis of original cost, the most valuable single item sold was that of motor vehicles, for which the United States once paid $1,037,839,000.

The top recipient country, on the basis of available figures, was France, which got goods costing $1,400,000,000 for $300,000,000. This transaction was concluded in the second quarter of 1946.

Although this greatest second hand sales campaign in history swung into high gear during the July through September quarter, with multimillion dollar bulk sales to China, Belgium, Italy and the Philippines, Byrnes said "much remains to be done."

Stilwell Road Unsalable.

For example, he noted that American property in foreign countries having an original total cost of $7,584,000,000 had been declared surplus by the end of the quarter, and about 15 per cent of this remained to be disposed of. In addition, approximately $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 worth of additional property eventually may be made available as surplus.

It is expected, however, the report said, that only a total of about $2,000,000,000 worth will actually be salable, because much of the remaining surplus will not have a wide civilian use, deterioration and obsolescence will lower its value, and war ravaged countries, as they recover, will have less need for it.

The report said that among the $427,000,000 worth of properties abandoned as "unsalable" were the famous Stilwell road, by which the United States transported supplies from Burma to China, and the so-called "aid to Russia" highway constructed by the United States army in Iran. These two wartime thoroughfares together cost nearly half the $427,000,000.

The United States is having little luck in obtaining "strategic materials" in return for surplus property, the report said. Most European nations do not export such materials and are "understandably reluctant" to trade what they control in their colonial possessions, it was explained.

Atomic Creatures Possible According to Scientist

DETROIT.—Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, predicted tremendous advances in use of atomic power in medical and biological studies, but warned of possible dangerous offshoots from those advances.

Compton, a top civilian adviser on nuclear research, said radiations from atomic piles might be used to produce "new species of living organisms" — of plants, bacteria, ferments and perhaps even of certain of the lower animals.

U. S. Navy Appoints X-Day For College Examinations

WASHINGTON.—The navy has set January 18 as "X-Day" for choosing 5,000 high school seniors who will be offered free college education plus $50 a month under its expanded officers' training program.

On that date competitive examinations will be held in 555 cities.

British Plane Dives as Pressure System Fails

LONDON.—Crewmen of a British Overseas Airways corp. Constellation reported on their arrival from New York that the pressurization system gave way over the Atlantic.

The Constellation was put into a dive from 19,000 feet to 7,000 feet when the artificial atmosphere evaporated. Maintained under pressure, it enables the planes to fly high with no effect on those aboard.

Celanese Corp. is making a toy washing machine which actually washes and wrings doll clothes.

Letter Informs Of WT Status

Dr. Hill Writes School Report For 3,000 Exes

By means of what he deems "a state of the nation message" Dr. J. A. Hill has sent a report on the progress, expenses, and future needs of West Texas State, to approximately 3,000 ex-students.

Additional housing and more classroom space are two of the most crucial problems at WT at the present time, he asserted. When all necessary building is completed, it will cost approximately $2,350,000. A new gymnasium, a library building and the chapel are the constructions that will begin in the immediate future.

Young Instructors

An effort is being made to secure young, competent teachers for this school, and in the future, no teacher over 40 years of age and not holding advanced degrees will be employed here.

The whole course of study is to be revised, especially in the vocational subjects. Courses shown to be obsolete will be dropped and those shown to be in step with the present demand will be offered.

As a result of the athletic flare-up, it will be necessary to start almost from "scratch" and build a program in athletics and physical education that will compare favorably with the other schools of the Border Conference.

More Exclusive

"It may be necessary in the near future," Dr. Hill predicted, "to select our students from the upper half of high school seniors, due to the heavy demand for higher education."

Dr. Hill closed his report with a request for additional funds to complete the chapel and asked cooperation in the gigantic building program at this school.

Pneumonia Takes A Large Toll of Texas Citizens

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

The U. S. Government is considering removing its ban on private loans to Germany, but American bankers are not displaying much interest in the idea. Private loans to Germany turned out to be unfortunate investments for many of them in the past, and some influential bankers say there is no immediate prospect of private business transactions with the former enemy which would warrant the extension of short-term credits.

Wildcats Slump Before Texans

West Texas State's unpredictable Buffaloes soothed the victory appetites of Panhandle cage fans Saturday night by upsetting the Border Conference leading Arizona Wildcats 62-57 in a hectic foul-filled basketball game played before a capacity crowd in Burton Gym.

Captain Ledru Jacobs, Buff forward hoop-hitter, broke scoring ice in the game by sinking a corner jump shot when the game was but a minute old. Hank Decker, center, and Metz LaFollette, towering Maroon guard, pumped in two points each to combine with a Jacob free-throw to push the Texans into an early 7-1 lead over the Arizonians.

Coming back strongly in the next nine minutes of play, Arizona, led by high-scoring Link Richmond, took the lead 16-15 and from then until the half the match turned into a point-scramble with the Wildcats clinging to a 34-33 margin at intermission.

Stocky J. W. Malone, 1944 All-American guard for West Texas, brought the fans to their feet in the opening seconds of the last half by sinking a left-hand shot to edge the Buffaloes into a one tally lead.

Again, however, the never-say-die Wildcats rallied and with five of the last twenty minutes gone they pulled in front 42-40 and from then until the last six minutes, of the match no more than two points separated the two clubs with the lead changing hands four times.

With the count knotted at 50-50, Malone and Jacobs coupled to hammer in 12 points while holding the Tucson quintet to seven and the game was iced away into the West Texas State victory book.

Malone paced the winners in scoring by swishing the net with 18 points but could not top the scoring performance of Link Richmond of Arizona who dropped in 21 tallies to steal the hardwood show.

This loss by Arizona was the second in two nights as they had bowed quite unexpectedly to Texas Tech in Lubbock Friday night for their first conference loss of the season.

Still standing atop the loop standings with 13 wins and 2 defeats, the Western team has only one more contest left on their schedule and that with the Texas Miners in Tucson this week.

There is nothing in the present situation in Britain to indicate that the domestic problems have weakened the Labor Government. Any possibility of a coalition government including Conservatives is discounted sharply in London. There is talk, however, that Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin may step down before the end of the year. Dissatisfaction inside the Labor Party over Bevin's international policies may prompt a Cabinet reorganization before the year is out. Speculation is heard frequently in London over possible choices for the Foreign Ministry.

Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton feels so strongly that the U. S. Administration's program for international trade is necessary that he can be expected to offer his resignation in protest if Congress makes any drastic alterations in the tariff structure.

Boyce Box

BOYCE BOX, one of a twosome on this year's Maroon and White cage team, comes to West Texas from Gatesville and teams with his twin brother Cloyce in a forward-guard combination.

He played varsity ball here in 1943 and scored 43 points that season before entering the service. While in service with the Marines, Boyce attended V-12 at North Carolina University and made the All-Conference cage five with the Tarheels.

Exceptionally fast for his 6 feet 4 inch, 211 pounds, he has one more year of eligibility left and will prove to be another Buffalo great before he graduates.

Boyce also plays football for the Buffaloes at an end position and returned from the service in time this year to get in a full season on the grid turf.

J. L. Houser

J. L. HOUSER has the distinction of being the shortest man on the traditionally towering West Texas State basketball team but what he lacks in height, he makes up in speed and hustle.

Claiming Levelland as his home, this 5 feet 9 inch, 160 pound, 19 year old sophomore, played varsity ball for the Buffaloes in the 1944-45 season before entering the navy. In that season he scored a grand total of 199 points.

Cloyce Box

CLOYCE BOX, twin brother of Boyce, is the guard half of the brother guard-forward act for West Texas State.

Equally as large, 6 feet four and weighing 211 pounds, 23-year-old Cloyce played his first ball for the Buffaloes in 1943 when he scored 23 points. He is very fast and can undoubtedly jump higher than any man on the usually tall West Texas quintet.

After 1943 Cloyce went into the Marines where he joined the 1st Marine Division and saw duty with them in North China.

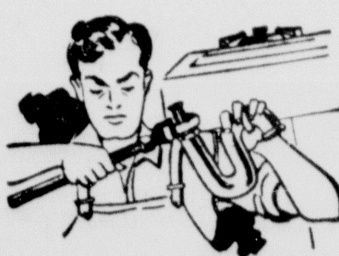

During the football season, he holds down a fullback slot on the squad and returned in time this year to play five games with the Maroon and White.

After graduation he expects to coach.

Russian military police are continuing surprise raids in the Soviet sector of Berlin, despite a publicized campaign of more moderate treatment. Groups of 100 to 150 regularly are being rounded up for re-examination of their identification papers. Some are released in one or two days, but others are held much longer.

Membership in the Communist Party in Russia is growing rather than shrinking as some outsiders predicted immediately after the war. The 3,500,000 prewar party membership has gone up to about 6,000,000.

Buffaloes End Season Saturday

Friday night, February 28, the Miller-men return to the local arena to play host to the Aggies of New Mexico A&M. West Texas, paced by J. W. Malone's 21 point barrage, came from behind in their initial contest with the Aggies in Las Cruces February 13 to ground the winning hopes of their foe 63-51. But with the Border League as scrambled as it is now, anything can happen.

Highlight of the game will be the crowning of the 1947 Buffalo basketball queen, Virginia Bush of Childress, who was selected by the cagemen last week. To escort the queen as attendants at the crowning, the tall Texans have selected Catherine Hester, Stratford; Fern Cunningham, Stratford; Peggy Head, Canyon; and Ruth Price, Canyon.

New Mexico

Saturday night the local quintet will play their last scheduled game of the season against the powerful University of New Mexico Lobos in Burton Gym. Mid-way in February, the Albuquerque five came from behind a 30-15 halftime deficit to tie the Buffs 47-47 with one minute to play and then rammed home four fast tallies to take the heart-breaking game from the Buffaloes.

Spearheading the New Mexico attack will be C. Wallace and R. Cuzzins who made 16 and 15 points respectively against the Canyon cagers in their last meeting.

Game time for both contests will be 8 o'clock.

Most Washington Republicans say the President has made a good start with the G. O. P. Congress. Others say his finish will be even better.
